

Welcome to AWGOM

Have you ever been played? Are you unsure if he wants you for sex or is he really interested? Are you just straight out clueless about dating and need help on how to find a quality guy or be more desirable? Most women have these issues. Do you?

I'm Mr. Troy and I want to help you. See, I used to think women were just objects. I would get numbers for the sake of it. Take girls on dates and lead them on just because I could. I also use to teach men how to do the same. I was a professional dating coach for men but I've stopped that now to use my knowledge with men to help women.

I've realized that all women are attractive and should know that. They should demand the respect they wish for. The problem is I have seen that not all women know that about themselves and that's why they attract the wrong men! I want to use my experience as a men's dating coach to help women know how men think. I know everything that men do and for what reasons. This goes for dating, picking up, and serious relationships. I will give you dating tips and invaluable insights on how to make yourself more desirable. That's even including fitness advice because let's face it, the better you look the better you feel about yourself and that makes you more desirable to everyone, even yourself.

Let me help you find the right ones and beat off the bad ones. You are a beautiful, fun, interesting woman and you deserve to find a respectable man who knows that. Got questions about current or old situations? Well that's what I'm here for, comment my blogs or email me and I'll answer your questions and post it online so everyone else can learn from it.

Oh yeah, be aware of my writings! I speak the truth, keep it real and do not sugar coat. If you are sensitive and can't handle reality then you might be able to appreciate my thoughts.

Mr. Troy
